

Clearwater to open new Florida office to serve southeast United States

Bedford, Nova Scotia, June 21

Clearwater announced today it will open a new sales office in Orlando, Florida to service customers in the Southeast United States.

The new office will open on July 1 and will allow Clearwater to enhance the quality of product and service for their current and expanding U.S. client base, according to John Risley, president, Clearwater.

"We're quite pleased to offer our customers throughout the southeastern United States greater access to our sales team, and we think this new office will allow us to better meet and improve upon our legacy of quality service and product that our customers have come to expect from Clearwater," said Risley.

Risley added that the new office is being headed up by Andrew Fisher, sales manager Southeast, and Stephanie McGovern, sales manager Southeast. The office's location and contact information follows:
